

Fall 2012's best food events, festivals and tastings

Check out this season's hot tickets, featuring tastings with top chefs and an abundance of food events during the NYC Wine & Food Festival.

By Sarah Theeboom

Tue Aug 21 2012

Five beloved annual food events—including the NYC Wine & Food Festival, Le Grand Fooding and Meatopia—return with dinner series, classes, tastings and more. Mobile eateries also get their due at the Vendy Awards, with food trucks gathering on Governors Island to celebrate.

NYC Food Film Festival

Food-obsessed cinephiles can eat and drink what they see on the big screen during this innovative film festival: Each viewing party matches a collection of cuisine-related documentaries, shorts and features with top-notch tastings seen in the screenings. The flicks include a documentary short about a Canadian-maple farm; behind-the-scenes looks at New York eateries Kasadela, Egg, Bark Hot Dogs and Wooly's Ices; a lesson on making Vietnamese coffee; and an account of Daniel Boulud, Bill Telepan and David Bouley's goodwill mission to Japan after last year's tsunami. Check the website closer to the time for a full schedule and details of the events on offer, such as a Lowcountry oyster roast featuring South Carolina bivalves.

Sun Oct 21 - Thu Oct 18 | Various locations